

ARISE coalition

A coalition of parents, educators, and other supporters of students with special needs to bring meaningful and positive reform to New York City's schools.

Katie, Age 6

OUR MISSION

The members of the ARISE Coalition have joined together to provide a collective and powerful voice on behalf of students with special needs in New York City. We seek to compel systemic reform to improve special education, promote greater transparency and accountability of the education system, and most critically, assure more positive outcomes and options for all students.

The ARISE Coalition is supported by funding from the New York Community Trust

Since 1924, The New York Community Trust has been the community foundation of the New York metropolitan area, now an aggregate of 2,000 funds created by charitable individuals, families, and corporations to improve the quality of life for all the area's residents.

Grants made from these funds meet the changing needs of children, youth, and families; aid in community development; improve the environment; promote health; assist people with special needs; and support education, arts, and human justice. In 2007, The Trust made grants of $166 million from assets of $2.1 billion.
